Re: Late Filed C-3

Dear Phil:

The Citizens for the Pike Place Market committee (the "Committee") filed a C-3 a day late during the final week before the election. While we frequently waive penalties when committees promptly correct their errors, we usually do not do so in the final week before the election. As a result of the campaign's failure to timely file a C-3, I am imposing a late filing penalty of $50.

LATE FILED C-3 REPORT

Under SMC 2.04.250.C, during the eight days up to and including election day, reports are due on the same day that deposits are made. The Committee filed a C-3 after the close of business on Friday, October 31 for a deposit made on October 30. The identities of three donors who contributed $760 in total was not timely disclosed.

LATE FILING PENALTY

During the week before the election, late filing penalties increase from $10 a day to $50 a day for each late filed report. (SMC 2.04.330.B.2). In light of the proximity to the election, I am imposing a $50 penalty.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

You may appeal this decision by submitting to this office, by 4:00 p.m., November 21, a written request for appeal, pursuant to Administrative Rule 4.B

CONCLUSION

A major purpose of the Seattle Elections Code is to give the public timely access to the campaign finances of each political committee. The Committee's delay in accurate reporting inhibited this purpose and delayed the opportunity for scrutiny, to which the public was entitled. Therefore, I am compelled to impose this penalty.
